

CVAS has been a local chapter of the National Audubon Society for over half a century.

Our group is actively involved in promoting the conservation and enjoyment of all natural habitats, wildlife, and plants with a special emphasis on birds.

Our members participate in weekly bird walks, monthly presentations and sponsor educational and conservation projects throughout Ventura County.

We have been leading efforts to educate the community on the benefits of changing lawns to drought-tolerant native plants (check website for how-to instructions and Lawns-to-Habitat grant information)

We also host annual Bird-Friendly Garden tours (check website for future tours)

Bird-Friendly Gardens provide:

- 1) Water (water feature, birdbath or a drip)
- 2) Food (flowers, seeds, fruit, insects)
- 3) Shelter from predators (bushes, trees)
- 4) Safe nesting sites (bird houses, dense bushes and trees)

"Plant it and they will come!"
